Our commitment to equality

All members of our school community are committed to the promotion of equality. This involves providing equality of opportunity and access, so as to tackle the barriers which may lead to unequal outcomes. We are also committed to the affirmation and celebration of diversity within the school and the wider community.

We believe that equality at our school should permeate all aspects of school life and that it is the responsibility of every stakeholder to uphold it. Every member of the school community should feel safe, secure, valued and of equal worth.

We welcome our duties under the Equality Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations.

Complementary policies relating to equality

All school policies take account of equalities issues, but the following policies have a particular and explicit concern with the promotion of inclusion and equality. They complement this policy and should therefore be considered alongside what is written here:

- Inclusion and Equal Opportunities in Learning Policy
- Equality and Diversity in Employment Policy
- Recruitment Policy Statement and Recruitment Procedure
- Special Educational Needs Policy

Content of this policy

This policy has six sections followed by appendices.

Section 1 explains the legal requirements for schools in respect of equalities, as contained in the Equality Act 2010. It also sets out the actions the school takes in order to meet its legal obligations.

Section 2 describes how the school addresses prejudice and prejudice-related incidents. Section 3 sets out the six principles which guide the school in meeting its legal obligations and in addressing issues of equality.

Section 4 describes ways in which the ethos of the school helps to promote equality. Section 5 covers a number of areas not addressed in the previous sections.

Appendix A is an Equality Audit Template which is completed each year to inform the School Development Plan

Appendix B and Appendix C are required in order to meet the two specific duties which apply to schools under the Equalities Act 2010:

- Appendix B is a summary of evidence showing how the school is meeting the three elements of the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED).
- Appendix C comprises the school's equality objectives and an action plan showing how they will be met.

Appendix D is the school's statutory: Accessibility Plan (Disability Access Plan).

Section 1 - Legal requirements

The Equality Act 2010 sets out the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED, sometimes referred to as the 'general duty'). This duty applies to all public sector organisations, including schools. In addition to the PSED, there are two specific duties which apply solely to schools.

The Equality Act 2010 makes reference to the following 'protected characteristics': race, disability, sex, age, religion or belief, sexual orientation, pregnancy and maternity and gender reassignment.

The PSED has three main elements:

- eliminate discrimination (this includes discriminating against, harassing or victimising a pupil or potential pupil in relation to admissions; in the way it provides education, in the way it provides access to any benefit, facility or service; or by excluding a pupil or subjecting them to any detriment);
- advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it;
- foster good relations across all characteristics, between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

The two specific duties which apply to schools are as follows:

- publish information to demonstrate how the school is complying with the PSED (this must be done every year);
- prepare and publish equality objectives (this must be done at least once every four years).

Appendix B and Appendix C show how the school is meeting these two specific duties:

- Appendix B provides a summary of evidence showing how the school is meeting the three elements of the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED);
- Appendix C identifies the school's equality objectives, and provides an action plan showing how they are met.

It is also a statutory requirement for the school to produce a Disability Access Plan (also known as an Accessibility Plan). This may be found at Appendix D.

Section 2 -Addressing prejudice and dealing with prejudice-related incidents

The school counters and challenges all types of discriminatory behaviour and this is made clear to staff, pupils, parents/carers and governors. The school is opposed to all forms of prejudice, including:

- prejudices around disability and special educational needs;
- prejudices reflecting sexism and homophobia
- prejudices around racism and xenophobia, including those that are directed towards religious groups and communities, for example anti-Semitism and Islamophobia, and those that are directed against Travellers, migrants, refugees and people seeking asylum.

The school has a clear, agreed procedure for dealing with all prejudice-related incidents. All such incidents are reported immediately to the nominated senior member of staff who ensures that each incident is dealt with in an appropriate manner. This senior member of staff also ensures that details of each incident are recorded together with information about actions taken in response to such incidents in the reportable incidents file, which is situated in the headteacher's office.

The headteacher provides termly reports to the Governing Body on any prejudice-related incidents that may have occurred. If requested, the school is able to provide a report to the local authority about the numbers, types and seriousness of prejudice-related incidents and how they have been dealt with.

Section 3 - Our equality principles

Principle 1: all learners are of equal value

For a more detailed explanation of how this principle affects aspects of our practice, please see the following:

- Inclusion and Equal Opportunities in Learning Policy
- Special Educational Needs Policy

We see all learners, and their parents/carers, as of equal value:

- whether or not they are disabled;
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status;
- whatever their gender and gender identity;
- whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background;
- whatever their sexual identity.

There is a consistently high expectation of all pupils regardless of age, gender, ethnicity, ability, social background and sexual orientation. To secure the best possible outcomes:

- adults in the school are expected to provide good, positive role models in their approach to all issues relating to equality of opportunity;
- we identify the particular needs of individuals and groups within the school and use targeted interventions to narrow gaps in achievement;
- a range of teaching methods is used throughout the school to ensure that effective learning takes place at all stages for all pupils;
- all pupils are actively encouraged to engage fully in their own learning.

Principle 2: we recognise and respect difference

This is something we regularly promote through assemblies and collective worship and through our curriculum.

Treating people equally does not always mean treating them in the same way. We need to treat people differently according to their particular needs. In order not to discriminate our policies, procedure and practices need to take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage people may face, in relation to:

- disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made (see Appendix D - Accessibility Plan)
- special educational needs (see Special Educational Needs Policy)
- ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised
- gender, so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, and women and men, are recognised (see Inclusion and Equal Opportunities in Learning Policy)
- religion, belief or faith background (see Religious Education Policy)

- sexual identity

Principle 3: we foster positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging

For a more detailed explanation of how this principle affects aspects of our practice, please see the following:

- Inclusion and Equal Opportunities in Learning Policy
- Sex and Relationship Education Policy
- Worship Policy

We intend that our policies, procedures and activities should promote:

- positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people;
- positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents;
- mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, and women and men, and an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment.

Principle 4: we observe good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development

For a more detailed explanation of how this principle affects aspects of our practice, please see the following:

- Equality and Diversity in Employment Policy
- Recruitment Policy Statement and Recruitment Procedure

We ensure that policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:

- whether or not they are disabled;
- whatever their gender and sexual identity, and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity;
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status.

To promote equality:

- all posts are advertised formally;
- all those involved in recruitment and selection are trained and aware of what they should do to avoid discrimination, ensuring equality of opportunity;
- access to opportunities for professional development is monitored on equality grounds;
- equalities policy and practice is covered in all staff inductions;
- employment policy and procedures are reviewed regularly to check conformity with legislation and the impact of policies is kept under regular review.

Principle 5: we aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

For a more detailed explanation of how this principle affects aspects of our practice, please see the following:

- Inclusion and Equal Opportunities in Learning Policy

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between:

- disabled and non-disabled people (see Appendix D – Accessibility Plan);
- people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- girls and boys, women and men.

Principle 6: society as a whole should benefit

We intend that whenever children from our school encounter people with protected characteristics (i.e. characteristics related to race, disability, sex, age, religion or belief, sexual orientation, pregnancy and maternity and gender reassignment), they will not discriminate against them, harass them or victimise them and they will respect them and recognise their right to be treated equally. This applies to children's present and future conduct.

We intend that our policies and practices will benefit society as a whole, both locally and nationally, by fostering greater social cohesion and greater participation in public life of:

- disabled people as well as non-disabled;
- people of a wide range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- both women and men, girls and boys;
- lesbian, gay, bisexual and transsexual (LGBT) people as well as heterosexual people.

Section 4 - School ethos

- All members of the school community are committed to its promotion of equality.
- Those involved in the leadership of the school are instrumental in demonstrating mutual respect between all members of the school community.
- We strive to achieve a feeling of openness and respect so that everyone feels welcome.
- The children are encouraged to greet visitors to the school with friendliness and politeness.
- The displays around the school reflect diversity across all aspects of equality and are frequently monitored.
- Reasonable adjustments are made to ensure access for pupils, staff and visitors (including parents) with disabilities (this not only includes physical access, but takes into account wider access to school information and activities) (see Appendix D – Accessibility Plan).
- Provision is made to cater for the spiritual, moral, social and cultural needs of all children through assemblies and collective worship, all subjects of the curriculum and classroom-based and off-site activities (see Assemblies and Collective Worship Policy and document entitled 'Opportunities for spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development across the curriculum').
- Pupils' views are actively encouraged and respected, for example, pupils are given an effective voice through advocacy, the School Council, pupil perception surveys and there are regular opportunities to engage with pupils about their learning and the life of the school.
- Positive role models are used throughout the school to ensure that different groups of pupils feel welcomed and included.

Section 5

Resources and display

All staff have access to a selection of resources which discuss and explain concepts of equality, diversity and community cohesion in appropriate detail. All staff have a responsibility to ensure that displays and resources are free from discrimination, bias and stereotyping. We actively seek to ensure our resources and presentations/displays demonstrate and model diversity.

Religious observance

We respect the religious beliefs and practice of all staff, pupils and parents, and comply with reasonable requests relating to religious observance and practice.

Staff development and training

We ensure that all staff, including support and administrative staff, receive appropriate equalities training and are given opportunities for professional development, both as individuals and as groups or teams.

Monitoring, evaluation and review

We collect, analyse and use quantitative and qualitative data related to the implementation of this policy, and make adjustments in the light of information gathered. In particular we collect, analyse and use data in relation to achievement, broken down as appropriate according to disabilities and special educational needs, ethnicity, culture, language, religious affiliation, national origin and national status and gender.

The headteacher is responsible for co-ordinating monitoring and evaluation activities that measure the impact of this and related policies on pupils from different groups, e.g. children with special educational needs, children in care and adopted from care, children from minority ethnic backgrounds (including Travellers), children with English as an additional language and children with Free School Meals, in the following recommended areas:

- progress and attainment;
- learning and teaching;
- behaviour, discipline and exclusions;
- attendance;
- admissions;
- prejudice related incidents;
- all forms of bullying;
- parental/carer involvement;
- participation in extra-curricular and extended school activities;
- staff recruitment and retention;
- visits and visitor

Equality Audit completed by school annually to inform School Development Plan

	Audit statements	School Response
1	The school has data on its composition broken down by year group, ethnicity and gender, EAL
2	The school has data on its composition broken down by types of impairment and special educational need
3	The school has data on inequalities of outcome and participation connected with ethnicity, gender and disability, and with proficiency in English
4	The school uses data on inequalities of outcome and involvement when setting itself objectives for achievable and measurable improvements
5	There are statements of the school's responsibilities under the Equality Act in various school documents, for example the school improvement plan and self-evaluation papers, the prospectus, routine bulletins and newsletters, and occasional letters to parents.
6	There are references to the school's responsibilities under the Equality Act in the minutes of governors' meetings, staff meetings, and in the minutes of the School Council.
7	Before introducing important new policies or measures, the school carefully assesses their potential impact on equalities, positive or negative.
8	A senior member of staff has special responsibility for equalities matters
9	A member of the governing body has a watching brief for equalities matters
10	The school's programme for continuing professional development (CPD) includes reference to equalities matters, both directly and incidentally
11	There is good equal opportunities practice in the recruitment and promotion of staff, both teaching and administrative.

12	There are clear procedures for dealing with prejudice-related bullying and incidents.
13	Surveys and focus groups show that most pupils feel safe from all kinds of bullying.
14	Focused attention is paid to the needs of specific groups of pupils, and there is extra or special provision for certain groups, as appropriate
15	There is coverage in the curriculum of equalities issues, particularly with regard to tackling prejudice and promoting community cohesion and mutual understanding
16	There are activities across the curriculum that promote pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development.
17	The school takes part in certain national projects and award schemes, for example the Accord Coalition Inclusivity Award; Black History Month; Bullying Intervention Group; Disability History Month; Equalities Award; Gypsy, Roma and Traveller History Month; LGBT History Month; Refugee Week; Rights Respecting Schools Award; Stephen Lawrence Education Standard; and Stonewall School Champions.
18	In curriculum materials in all subjects there are positive images of disabled people; of gay and lesbian people; of both women and men in non-stereotypical gender roles; and of people from a wide range of ethnic, religious and cultural backgrounds
19	The school has procedures for consulting and involving parents and carers, and for engaging with local groups and organisations, and has regard in these for the concerns and requirements of the Equality Act.
20	The school has procedures for finding out how pupils think and feel about the school, and has regard in these for the concerns of the Equality Act.

How the school is complying with the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED)

Under one of the two specific duties contained in the Equality Act 2010, schools are required to publish information to demonstrate how the school is complying with the PSED. The grid below provides a summary of evidence showing how the school is meeting the three elements of the PSED in respect of each group with a protected characteristic.

As is required by law, this information is updated every year. Last updated Spring 2024. Next update due Spring 2025.

	PSED element 1 Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act. By removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people due to their protected characteristics.	PSED element 2 Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not. By taking steps to meet the needs of people from protected groups where these are different from the needs of other people	PSED element 3 Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not. By encouraging people from protected groups to participate in public life or in other activities where their participation is disproportionately low.
In relation to RACE the evidence we hold tells us:	These factors apply to our approach in regard to all protected groups: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• we will take account of the Equalities policy in every area of school life	Principle 1 of the Equalities Policy All learners are of equal value. is taken very seriously. Appendix D: Accessibility

Plan (Disability Access

Plan)

INTRODUCTION

The SEN and Disability Act 2001 (SENDA) extended the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA) to cover education. Since September 2002, the Governing Body has had three key duties towards disabled pupils, under Part 4 of the DDA:

- not to treat disabled pupils less favourably for a reason related to their disability;
- to make reasonable adjustments for disabled pupils, so that they are not at a substantial disadvantage;
- to plan to increase access to education for disabled pupils.

This plan sets out the proposals of the school to increase access to education for disabled pupils in the three areas required by the planning duties in the DDA:

- increasing the extent to which disabled pupils can participate in the school curriculum;
- improving the environment of the school to increase the extent to which disabled pupils can take advantage of education and associated services;
- improving the delivery to disabled pupils of information which is provided in writing for pupils who are not disabled.

It is a requirement that the school's accessibility plan is resourced, implemented and reviewed and revised as necessary.

Attached is a set of action plans showing how the school will address the priorities identified in the plan.

DEFINITION

Disability is defined by the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA) :

A person has a disability if he or she has a physical or mental impairment that has a substantial and long- term adverse effect on his or her ability to carry out normal day to day activities.

KEY OBJECTIVE

To reduce and eliminate barriers to access to the curriculum promoted and to promote full participation in the school community for pupils, and prospective pupils, with a disability.

The school is committed to ensuring equal treatment of all its employees, pupils and any others involved in the school community, with any form of disability and will ensure that disabled people are not treated less favourably in any procedures, practices and service delivery.

PRINCIPLES

Compliance with the DDA is consistent with the school's aims and equal opportunities policy, and the operation of the school's SEN policy.

The school recognises its duty under the DDA (as amended by the SENDA) :

- Not to discriminate against disabled pupils in their admissions and exclusions, and provision of education and associated services
- Not to treat disabled pupils less favourably
- To take reasonable steps to avoid putting disabled pupils at a substantial disadvantage
- To publish an Accessibility Plan

The School will :

- Recognise and value parents/carers knowledge of their child's disability and its effect on their ability to carry out normal activities,
- Respect the parents' and child's right to confidentiality
- Provide all pupils with a broad and balanced curriculum, differentiated and adjusted to meet the needs of individual pupils and their preferred learning styles.

This curriculum endorses the key principles in the National Curriculum framework, which underpin the development of a more inclusive curriculum by

- Setting suitable learning challenges
- Responding to pupils' diverse learning needs
- Overcoming potential barriers to learning and assessment for individuals and groups of pupils

ACTIVITIES

Education and Related Activities

The school will continue to seek and follow the advice of the Vine, LA services and outside agencies such as specialist teacher advisers, SEN consultants, and appropriate health professionals.

Physical Environment

The school will take account of the needs of pupils and visitors with physical difficulties and sensory impairments when planning and undertaking future improvements and refurbishments of the site and premises, such as improved access, lighting, acoustic treatment and colour schemes, and more accessible facilities and fittings.

Provision of Information

The school will make itself aware of local services, including those provided through the Vine and LA, for providing information in alternative formats when required or requested

PLAN AVAILABILITY

The school makes its Accessibility Plan available in the following ways ;

- A copy is held in the school office
- A copy is posted on the school website
- A copy can be e-mailed or posted on request
- The plan can also be made available in a large print size format upon request – the school office can be contacted for further details.

Objective	Strategy	Outcome	Timescale and cost	Success criteria
Improving access to the curriculum
Ensure that SEND reforms implemented effectively	Establish the needs of staff with regard to curriculum delivery. Participate in appropriate CPD programmes	SEND reforms fully implemented .	Ongoing	Pupils with SEND well supported Parents and carers of pupils with SEND well supported Staff expertise is raised
